Purity Of Heart - Compassionate World Affairs - Jesus The Christ, 30th November 2024

JESUS THE CHRIST: The Inner Heart, in its Purity, does not instigate destructive actions. But it does support the Unity of all that it embraces. That includes the body, which primarily seeks survival, and the empathic connections between oneself and others, which are often difficult to discern from one's own. Through its exercise of compassion, the heart often accepts or confuses the pain and distress of others as its own. From such feelings, it can develop guilt, remorse, fear, and grief. Yet, such unfortunate circumstances were caused by misdeeds or accidents of life, and not by the Heart. Ultimate clarity belongs to the Soul, which Knows itself as 'I AM'. The Heart's Power is rectified through the way it connects body and Soul.

When I remarked that 'I was in the world, but not of it', I was referring directly to the way I Optimize the Powers of My Heart. The Key is to feel the troubles of the world while remaining in the True Bliss of the Heart that Knows Only Perfection. It is up to each Soul to efficiently manage his or her own Heart and to maintain Its Purity. Negative feelings that have permeated the Sacred Centre may generate negative beliefs and attitudes.

Beliefs and attitudes are the connecting links between the Heart and Mind. If you would see your hopes fulfilled, you must be very attentive to the foundations of which they are laid. The Heart formulates beliefs to exercise command, and the mind also can generate beliefs to explain contents and attractions that are often unconsciously motivated and highly dysfunctional. We could look at this more closely by using an example of such formulated beliefs.

The most obvious example is simply the 'unknown', a tangible mystery, which the mind fills in with its own inventions of fear of losing control. But now consider this.

When a man or woman's Heart has become attuned to scarcity, their minds will work overtime to generate ways and means of making money. There is a certain logic to this in relation to survival pressures, but it never solves the problem or changes the basic belief. The man or woman just copes or grows rich to finance, perpetuating poverty consciousness within themselves and others. And so, they overwork to support a kind of material wealth that dominates their lives, but never results in a deep and true sense of prosperity. What has not been earned through the mind's efforts only compensates for lack, for the mind only solves problems of logic or balance; never the actual problems of life. (This can be clearly seen in the world) of today, 29th November 2024, where the belief in lack has now been perpetuated to a scale that is now out of control to find resolution by mankind alone! Hence, the need today, to have these beliefs Healed by extraordinary means at the Hands of the Pure at Heart who understands such problems, on a small personal scale or that of a world pandemic).

Poverty consciousness, as it will be Highlighted in the times to come, came about from wearing so many blinders to the Abundance of Life, that mankind eventually believed in scarcity and then invested in it. Now, by comparison, there was another group of mankind who believed in the 'Wonderous Universe' with awe as they expressed their gratitude for the Infinite supply. These people have given their minds a positive impulse, and so they seek only ways to make that abundance real in their own lives.

With less effort, greater prosperity is attained. The same is true of physical well-being. A man or woman who believes in illness will struggle all their lives to be well. And his or her mind will provide them with many ways to prevent or to remedy the ailments without ever removing the source of the trouble. Yet one who believes in Health and Wholeness will set their minds to the positive service of making it true. Given any negative belief or impulse, the mind will operate dysfunctionally. There may be perfect logic, but applied, in reverse mode, to compensate for, but not solve, the problem.

What do I refer to when I say, 'reverse mode'? In other words, I Am saying the use of 'logic'. 'Logic' is basically a function of determining or predicting results, consequences, or derivative patterns. If it originates with positive input, it will continue in that direction and have a meaningful positive conclusion. If, however, logic begins with a negative input, such as 'I hate broccoli', it will proceed in 'that' direction to provide a person with all the reasons 'why' broccoli should be hated instead of providing opportunities to rethink that attitude or at least providing alternatives for nourishment. As 'logic' attempts to justify negative impulses, it instigates a reversal to the positive logic of life. Life is hard-wired for goodness, but under the mind's control, it often appears to be just the opposite.

As I look around Me, from the Divinity within Me, My Father's Universe is Infinitely Abundant. By Beholding and Believing in this, the Mind can then work in a Direct and Proper way to bring about Abundance. If given a positive impulse, the Mind Works Properly. If given a negative impulse, the mind works in reverse or becomes logical to the greater Logic or the Impersonal approach to both physical and non-physical realities of Life. Behold and be in Awe of the Infinite, Everlasting Process of Creation.

Let Me recite for you a favourite passage in the New Testament which says:- 'Consider the lilies of the field. They do not labour or spin, yet I tell you not even Solomon in all his splendour was arrayed like one of these. Behold Infinity every day, and all that you seek shall be given unto you.'

So, where does the Soul relate to all of this, I hear you ask?

The Soul is the totality of your Love, Awareness, Experience, Ability, Memory, Emotions, and Potentials which compromise your Immortality. Your mind is a recorder and administrator. In this capacity, the mind is a useful and important asset to your existence. It is a beautiful, designed instrument for developing and applying your Intelligence. But it was never built to be the commander, and most certainly, it is not the Source of your Higher Intelligence. The mind, or brain, has no power of its own, and it cannot alter basic conditions.

At the Centre of your Soul is the Sacred Heart. This is the Point at which you and the Father are One with God's Universal Consciousness. The Heart sees Infinity within and without. It can Behold Perfection. And it can ascertain the Origin of Conditions and Change them. The Heart is Your Higher Intelligence. Your Heart is Centred in a Viewpoint of Infinity established by your Creator. Thus, the Heart Honours your Individuality, the Oneness of God, and the Integrated Unity of All That Is.

A simple exercise one can do to feel more deeply into this Revelation is to find a place where you can watch the sunrise or sunset. Be careful not to look straight into the sun until it hits the cusp of the horizon or is filtered by the atmospheric densities at the Earth's Edge. But once it is orange and comfortable to look at, you will find in its Centre, an 'Infinity Point' which will resonate with the 'Infinity Point' of your own Soul, and this will give you much nourishment and positive awareness, even biological nourishment. It will actually assist in the manufacture of vitamins and the utilization of minerals within your body.

Primitive man recognised the Life-Giving Powers of the Sun, although he did not know how to properly regard it. It is a mistake to worship the Sun or any other created thing. However, it is not a mistake to recognize the Presence of Infinity 'Within' Creation. The Sun is a powerful display of Infinity. Another Inspiring display is the Starlit Skies at night, or the vastness of an ocean viewed from the high seas. Look at images of the Earth taken from space! That, too, is a Powerful way to recognise the 'Fields of Creation' in which you Play every day, no matter where you are or what you do! That Vastness is Within You, so do not neglect the Full Realisation of that Fact!

Contemplate Infinity every day; inwardly as well as outwardly. Infinity is not a subject limited to the vastness of space or even the immeasurably small ones. Infinity is not about quantity at all. It's actually about 'Quality'! Let's speak more about your human Heart as this will be a 'Cornerstone' from which you can now go forward to Create your New Lives.

The 'Heart' I speak of is not the physical organ, although the physical organ is an appropriate instrument for the True Heart because the physical organ nourishes your body with lifeblood every moment of your life. The Heart I speak of is the 'Central Focal Point' of your Soul. It is the 'Lens' through which your Soul integrates all of your earthly emotions and all of your Divine Awareness into a 'Focal Point' of Infinite Possibility. This Point is on the threshold of your physical existence, at a point slightly below and behind the physical heart.

This is the Source of the Power your Creator has established within 'You', not your mind! Your mind is merely a servant, and it behaves well if it is given positive impulses; it behaves poorly if it is given negative impulses. The Heart Generates all of the earthly emotions as well as the 'Compassionate Feelings' from the Higher Realms. But it is so much more than just about emotion. It is the Infinite Awareness and the basis of all the 'Higher Consciousness' you will ever assimilate. It is from this Universal Power within the Centre of Your Own Beingness, that the 'ENTIRE SCRIPT' of your life and those around you is written. Live in Your Heart, to either fulfil the Script of your life or to 'rewrite' it! Not in your mind! Your mind alone is powerless to bring any of that about. But every Desire of your Heart will be Fulfilled if you can find that Godly Relationship between your mind, the Higher Mind, and the Higher Heart.

There was a time when the Heart was so distraught with life that it was spinning in upon itself, filling the mind with contradictions and chaos generated by the Heart's despair. The servant mind attempted mutiny over the Master Heart, because the mind at least was logical, and life demanded no less than survival. The Heart was losing command through its own negative conflicts. Therefore, the mind felt completely justified in usurping or dominating what it perceived to be irrational. It set out to conquer the Heart by generating its own reality. Within this self-centred reality, the mind would present itself as the source of intelligence instead of the exquisite instrument of Intelligence it was Created To be.

At its best, the mind is logical. In pursuit of logic, it avoids incomprehensible circumstances or seeks to control them until they submit to some form of reason. From this viewpoint of the mind, 'control and understanding are one and the same'. The mind assumes that it understands whatever it controls, and often in pursuing control over it, will simply invent some part of reality and fill in the blanks with what it considers making sense. This is the 'nexus', the centre of duress, in a mind-dominated person, group, government, or organisation, indeed a nation or world. It is the single most important reason to require that the mind serve as a tool for developing and applying Intelligence and not be confused with its Source. Most especially, it is important to realize that the mind is 'NOT' Who You Are!

Therefore, assuming a troubled heart is not the answer. Substituting control for understanding will only deplete your life, leaving it stripped of God's Richness, Power, and Meaning. The Answers to Healing your life will be found in the Inner Strength of your Higher Heart, where Compassion, Mercy, Forgiveness, and most of All, Divine Understanding and Love abound in Abundance. Only the Understanding based upon God's Universal Love will Accomplish this, not man-made assumptions of what life is. There is 'NO SUBSTITUE' for a Creation in God's Mighty Benevolence. So, in addressing any problem in life, to find resolutions and solutions to all imbalances, one must address the issues for what they Truly Are: misperceptions of mankind's beliefs that are void of the 'Mother's Divine Love and the Father's Infinite Light'!

There is no requirement to make this world or your lives Divine, these things are already Divine! You do not have to do anything to make this Universe Divine. All you have to do is to perceive and then to regard with Honour that which is already here; the Love of God the Father and God the Mother. Behold, Be Grateful and Forgive that which you did not understand or control. For Life is Divine. It is Already Perfect! And it naturally manifests the Will of Its Creator when those who wish to Create, Align their Hearts and Minds to the Creator's Universal Intelligence.

I wish to add one more note to this 'Focal Point of Infinity', so you may grasp just a little more clearly before you enter into your next desired Creation.

'Logic' is outwardly manifested as structural organization. Like the mind, structure is a wonderful instrument for bringing about orderly conduct of life, so long a structure does not have to dominate and a controlling authority. All of the oppressive structures that you experience in the world are from the mind-generated concepts imposing structural perfection upon a Natural and Greater Perfection that is already present, but perhaps less controllable. Often, the mind breaks things in order to fix them for a price or to bring about its own control. This includes breaking lives, breaking hearts, breaking Souls, breaking relationships, and breaking people's wills, just to gain the upper hand through some invented or glorified structure, which it presents as the 'answer'.

In such a world, dominated by mind and oppressive structures, to make life more bearable, the Heart became the willing servant. The Heart's Reserve of Compassion and God's Intelligence are so Great that they effectively compensated for all the loveless barriers and oppressive formulas that mind-generated realities had sanctioned. With such concessions by the Heart, the inventions were then complete. In a world where the mind leads and the heart follows, the greater dignity of the Heart was forgotten, locked behind a prison door, and forbidden the freedom to exist. In such a world, the Heart was considered to be feminine, adaptive, and sentimental, a centre of awareness that served a person's emotional and creative needs only, a 'wife' to the mind, but nothing more.

When the Heart is in its Rightful Place, the mind can then be Truly of Service, and ironically, it becomes both Brilliant and Blissful. In a Rightful Combination with the Heart, there will be moments of Genius irrespective of the mind's educational level. Like any instrument of Service, the mind works best within established and limited parameters. One of the indelible characteristics of the mind is that it must have at least two points of fixed reference in order to be operable. I reiterate the conditions so as not to confuse the lapse of clarity the mind engages when it wishes to create anything, physically, mentally, or emotionally! The two points are:

1. That of coming from a place only of rational thinking, that is, thought, void of the Heart.

2. The acceptance and projection that they see themselves as the centre of everything and thus their own interpretation, of being their own source of intelligence. Both of these viewpoints are in opposition to Divine Understanding and the True Source of All of God's Creations, The All That Is! In short, they cannot deal with Infinity.

By comparison, the Heart is Centred on a Viewpoint of Infinity, and from this, it draws its Power to deal with life profoundly. When the mind serves the Heart, anything is possible, although when the heart serves the mind, there is perpetual limitation. Emotional energy will see and boil into restless liability.

Herein We can now offer the working definition of the mind. The mind is essentially composed of two parts. The first part is an integrating and transmitting instrument, which is basically a complex DNA Computer. Some will call this a Bio-Computer, which is vast in its conceptualization. Like all computers, it must be reset from time to time, deleting all old programs and then downloading all new ones. It centres in your brain and nervous system but actually involves every cell of your body.

The second part is an electromagnetic field permeating and immediately surrounding your body. This is primarily a gathering, storage, and retrieval system for all your sentient experience and through integrations. All data in the mind is encoded mathematically and is triggered by a (+) or (-) access of entry impulse, which I have explained above. This is why the mind will perform dualistically unless supervised by the Heart. When the mind dominates, duality is the standard frequency point.

In a mind-dominated world, one should also consider the aspects of 'charity', which has to be an organised pursuit under the governance of structure. But when this happens, human Brotherhood and Sisterhood is in a tragic state of disempowerment. However, when the Heart is in a proper Relationship with God, and the Master of One's Life, then 'charity' occurs as a natural aspect of sharing and finding solutions and resolutions to all manner of human problems at all levels of engagement, beginning with individuals all the way through to the likes of Nations and Countries. 'To be successful in such endeavours, the beliefs in mind control activities must be dissolved to the point of deleting the old mind programs'

Do not, ever underestimate the Power of the Heart to bring forth a Higher Intelligence, a Higher Awareness of Greater Solutions to Existence, that you would never have anticipated. This is why so many times, people will experience a Miracle of Healing in the face of death; they think, 'I only have six weeks to live', and then let go of the external demands. The mind loses all importance, and loved ones become dearer than ever. All of a sudden, the Heart Fire burns brightly, whether through grief, joy, contentment, or resignation. Only then, through the Fire of the Heart, is a Miracle possible via this Revelation. Most people facing death go ahead and die in the world of structure, which was their true oppression, and in the end, they really live. That is what I meant when I said, 'You must die first in order to live'. Because when you Live in the Heart, You Live Immortally; You Live Eternally!

The Heart always brings New Life to any situation and opens up New Possibilities that would have been impossible without it. Sometimes a 1% change is enough to make all the difference because that is all it takes to reposition a situation that seems to be absolute and to demonstrate that it is actually relative.

Only God is Absolute. All else is relative. That's why a man or woman who judges becomes imprisoned within the deadlocks of his or her own mind. The blind spot that generates this self-destruct mechanism is that the mind formulates its control around the factors it considers absolute and yet cannot comprehend the One and Only Absolute there is. This is why I stress to you all that the mind is a brilliant servant but a failing and fatal master. Before you build it, whatever it may be, you must know how to unplug it from the constraints of the mind's control and old belief systems.

And So, It Is.

I Am the Living Christ in all Men and Women - without exception.
